FIRST NATIONAL IMPROVEMENTS

An extensive remodeling and enlarging program is underway in the First National Bank of Gettysburg that is destined to make it one of the most modern and finest banking institutions in this section of the state, Edmund W. Thomas, president, said today.

The work involves the conversion of the entire first floor of the bank building into a banking room. Heretofore approximately onehalf of the first floor was occupied by several different commercial tenants.

The alterations, when completed, will cost approximately $125,000 to $130,000. The present banking facilities of 2,640 square feet will occupy a large portion of the entire space and will give the public from four to five times as

Summerfield Will Not Speak

Here Saturday

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield will not speak in Gettysburg Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock as previously announced.

Due to a conflict in speaking dates Mr. Summerfield was unable to make a change in his plans to come here and has postponed his Gettysburg visit until October.

The postmaster general is on a speaking tour in the mid-west and could not fulfill his Gettysburg date. He has asked that an as the date for a hearing on the petition for an injunction against the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers International Union. The hearing will be at 10 a.m. in Adams County court.

Judge W. C. Sheely signed an order Wednesday granting a rule on the long list of defendants in the case to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued.

The injunction is sought by the Summit Mining Corporation of Aspers in an effort to halt "threats, intimidation and coercion" which the company claims are hampering operation of its business and may cause "substantial, immediate and irreparable injury."

LITTLESTOWN SEEKS CONTROL OF JUNK YARDS

Daylight Saving Time will be extended in the Littlestown area through October 27, it was announced at the Littlestown borough council meeting Tuesday night in the office of the borough secretary, 32 N. Queen St. Council president Lewis H. Fox presided at

An ordinance to control and to possible prohibit junk yards within the borough limits will be drafted. The ordinance will give council the authority to regulate junk yards so that they "will not become a public nuisance." The ordinance will also state that no future junk yards may be established within the borough limits: The penalty will be fine from $10 to $100 or thirty days in the county jail in default of the payment of the fine.

Rubbish Burning Law

The regulation of the burning of grass, brush, rubbish and other waste materials will be covered by another new ordinance. It will omit the following section of the former ordinance: "unless such ignition or burning take place during a period of still gir and within the immediate presence of one of more adult persons who are competent and sufficient in number to keep such fire from becoming a hazard, or unless such burning takes place within a stove, furnace or other approved and safe container."

Repairs to various alleys and streets in the borough were listed by the street committee as follows: rehire and put under suspension now he was wrong if he thought alleys adjacent to the Redeemer's a shopworker whose dismissal he could enjoy the same kind of Evangelical and Reformed Church: Charles St., at the borough limits; signs were ordered for erection tardiness. when the Post Office alley is comwith listeners. The chief operator of the telephone exchange heard about it and asked the girls to sing a song for the operators over the phone. They did. A few days later, the operators in the exchange across the river asked to be cut ir on the concert.

Singing over the telephone was fun for Maude and Vio. Their phone was one of those wall jobs. Maude and Vio would stand a certain distance from the phone and the chief operator would tune in and tell them when their voices were coming over at the right tone and volume.

This telephone-concert went on for some time, until one day the chief operator told the two singers that operators along the line ten, fifteen, twenty, thirty miles away heard about them and asked to be cut in. "Go ahead if you wish," said Maude and Vio. Soon there were dozens of operators listening to the concerts. Then they started to send in requests most of which could be filled. Occasionally Maude and Vio were stumped but not for too long. They managed to get the sheet music and after a few rehearsals they put it "on the air" or should we say wire?

This free concert singing was really spreading. The peak was reached when the chief operators in various towns along the line, Peshtigo, Oconto, Green Bay (all in Wisconsin) and Menominee, Wallace, Stephenson, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Manistique and others (all in Michigan) started "cutting in" friends of theirs to hear the two girls sing. Soon several hundred and more heard the concerts. They went on several nights a week. Requests came to sing for persons two and three hundred years ago. We don't remember just how long this went on but it was several years at least. However, we well remember the above facts . . . you see, Maude Roy and Vio Roy are our only sisters . . . and they still sing.

The magazine campaign goal of $3,900 was exceeded by $324.97 bringing the school's total to $4,224.97. Five rooms, 9X 12AV, 7X, 11AG, and 12CG reached or went over their goal of ten dollars per pupil. 11AG tripled their designated amount by bringing in $1,013.98. The winning schol team, the Turkeytrotters, beat the Flying Saucers by $778.81. Robert Clingan was high salesman for the school with $219.50, Jean Luckenbaugh was second with $172.99, and Jonn Reever was third with $121.53. Mrs. Urith Shipley, faculty sponsor of the campaign, says, "This contest surpassed all others of previous years financially, rivalry, good sportsmanship, educaopportunity and splendid school and community relationship. I wish to personally thank the entire student body and faculty for their cooperation in making this project a success."

knock the wind out of any other You're seeing why the 57 FORD will "take nothing from nobody"

"Gangway!" That's what you'll say as you flash ahead in the new kind of Ford for '57. For Ford's Silver Anniversary year of building V-8's, you'll have more skedaddle than any other low-priced car ever . . . up to 245 hp. And wait till you take this spitfire over the hills and down the straightaways. It's fun-driving at its finest!

Mr. Horsepower! That's the title this '57 Ford has already won. With up to 245 hp Ford simply flattens mountains that would
